Mutsumi Takahashi

Born in Shiroishi, Japan, Mutsumi Takahashi began studying piano at the Toronto Conservatory of Music at the age of six.

She is a graduate of Vanier College and Concordia University, holding both a B.A. and M.B.A.

In Spring of 2013, she was awarded an honorary doctorate by her alma mater, Concordia University.

Most recently, she was a co-chair of the Best Care for Life Campaign of the McGill University Health Centre with Montreal Canadiens great Jean Beliveau, and she currently sits on McGill's Beatty Memorial Fund Committee, which oversees the annual Beatty Memorial Lecture Series.
